

ABRAM GOMEZ

October 2026

Goodbye USA. Hello Ghana!

It's finally here. I'm moving to Ghana on October 27. For the past year and a half, I've seen God's faithfulness in action. He has prepared my heart, He has strengthened my faith, and He has guided and provided every step of the way. I praise God for answering prayer and providing for all of my flights, storage, baggage, shipping costs, and, thus far, most of my monthly support. It has been amazing to watch churches and individuals step up—often almost out of nowhere—to meet the very needs I was praying for.

For the past month, I've been on my last and longest road trip across the USA, which took me as far as Vermont and even through parts of Canada (where I was stranded for a day with car problems—God answered that prayer, too, and rescued me). It's funny; I've dreamed about a USA road trip my whole life, and since starting deputation, I've been on numerous long road trips. "Delight thyself also in the LORD; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart." (Psalm 37:4) Even so, as much as I've enjoyed seeing this beautiful country, my heart is in Ghana, and I am greatly anticipating the transition to living and serving there in West Africa.

I praise God for all the meetings with friends and loved ones this past month, for dozens of opportunities to present the Gospel, and for six people I personally saw trust Christ as Saviour! Two of these were small-town teenagers I met at the Kansas State Fair. I had been passing out John/Romans Bibles with Midwest Seedline for nearly nine hours when I ran into Ryder and Joy. They were approachable, listened intently to the Gospel, and trusted Christ right then and there for salvation! Hallelujah! To God be the glory!

I'm excited to get back to the bus route that my Ghanaian brother, Francis Kusi, and I started the last time I was in Ghana. The people there greatly need a reliable vehicle to get to church, and I've been raising funds to purchase one so we can better reach them and others. The Lord has already provided a large portion of the cost; I'm trusting Him for the remaining $4,000.

Please pray that I can reach 100% of my target support, that the remaining vehicle funds will come in, that the transition to Ghana is smooth, and that the Lord gives me boldness to preach the Gospel wherever I am—before, during, and after the move.

Starting October 28, the best way to reach me will be by email or WhatsApp (+1-323-646-2696). To give or support/partner with me, please visit fbmi.org/give (Fund: Gomez, Abram 6122). Thank you so much for your prayers, calls, messages, gifts, and generous support.

For the sake of the Gospel,
